

TRY OUT THE EFFECT OF VENEX!

FUNCTIONAL TEST – WITHOUT VENEX

Step 1

Ask the test person to sit down on a chair.

Both arms should now be stretched to the sides.

Step 2

Take the arms and pull them towards the centre of the back. Make sure that the person sits straight and watch the shoulders to remain relaxed. Do only pull gently avoiding pain or pressure.

Sketch in the angle of the arms' position reached.

FUNCTIONAL TEST – WITH VENEX

Step 3

Now put a VENEX wear around the test person's neck like laying a scarf around the shoulder. Wait approximately 2 minutes (up to 10 minutes with very muscular people).

Step 4

Repeat step 2 and let the test person experience how much the arms can already be brought closer to each other behind the back. In case of a versatile person, the effect is such that the palms of the hands can easily touch each other.

Now sketch in again the angle of the arm position reached and compare the results.

95% of the test people are able to bring the arms closer together. This shows that the VENEX V-TEX® fibre has its effect with them. Do regularly wear a combination of outerwear and underwear to reach an optimal effect.
